

H-2B Foreign Labor Certification Job Order Request

The H-2B temporary non-agricultural program allows U.S. employers who meet specific regulatory requirements to bring foreign non-immigrant workers to the United States to fill temporary non-agricultural jobs. Before requesting H-2B classification from the U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS), the employer must apply for and receive a temporary labor certification for H-2B workers from the U.S. Department of Labor (DOL) (or Guam DOL, if the employment will be in Guam).

In order to receive an H-2B temporary labor certification, the employer must establish that:

- x There are not enough U.S. workers who are able, willing, qualified, and available to do the temporary work.
- x The employment of H-2B workers will not adversely affect the wages and working conditions of similarly employed U.S. workers.
- x Its need for the prospective worker's services or labor is temporary, regardless of whether the underlying job can be described as temporary. With the exception of a one-time occurrence need that could last up to three (3) years, temporary need will not be approved for longer than 10 months. The employer's need is considered temporary if it is a(n):
 1. One-time occurrence
 2. Seasonal need
 3. Peakload need
 4. Intermittent need

To Submit an H-2B Job Order with the Alaska SWA

Complete the H-2B Job Order Request Form. E-mail, fax or mail the form to the Alaska State Workforce Agency (SWA). The Alaska SWA will review the information, create a job order and send the employer or agent a copy of the Job Order Transcript which the employer/agent will then send to CNPC along with their Application for Temporary Employment Certification (ETA Form 9142B) and Application for Prevailing Wage Determination (ETA Form 9141).

To submit your own H-2B job order into the Alaska Labor Exchange, known as AlaskaJobs, visit the website located at: <https://alaskajobs.alaska.gov/>. The employer must complete a job order and then submit a copy of the job order to the CNPC, as well as providing a copy of the created Job Order to dol.flc@alaska.gov. The Alaska SWA will then review the submitted Job Order and provide an updated H-2B Job Order to the employer, as required.

ou can find employer account setup and access instructions at : <https://jobs.alaska.gov/>.

If you need further assistance, please contact your nearest Alaska Job Center:

<https://jobs.alaska.gov/offices/index.html>.

Note: The H-2B Job Order will remain on hold until the SWA receives the Notice of Acceptance from CNPC, at which time, the Alaska SWA will release the Job Order for clearance.

Note: All job orders placed with the Alaska SWA must meet the following criteria listed on the H-2B Job Order Checklist.

H-2B Job Order Request Form Email to:dol.flc@alaska.gov

This job order is submitted in connection with a concurrently submitted Application for Temporary Employment Certification for H-2B workers. Upon acceptance by the Department of Labor this job order must remain active until 21 days prior to the employer's start date of need.
