CASE NO. ULP 88-001

DECISION AND ORDER 88-2

On September 14, 1988, The Fairbanks Police Department Employees Association (FPDEA) filed an Unfair Labor Practice charge against the City of Fairbanks. The FPDEA charged that the City of Fairbanks violated Alaska Statute 23.40.110 by breaching the terms and conditions of the collective bargaining agreement between FPDEA and the City of Fairbanks. The FPDEA alleged that the City was soliciting bids to subcontract work subject to the agreement between the FPDEA and the City without first seeking approval of such subcontracting from FPDEA. Specifically, on September 9, 1988, the Fairbanks City Council voted to accept a proposal from a private firm to enforce parking in the Fairbanks area.

The Agency carefully investigated and considered the charge and determined that further proceedings are not warranted. On October 6, 1988, the general membership of the FPDEA voted to accept a negotiated settlement of this issue with the City. FPDEA voluntarily WITHDREW its Unfair Labor Practice charge on November 1, 1988.

ORDER

Therefore, the Agency finds that the charge filed by the FPDEA should be dismissed, and IT IS SO ORDERED.

Signed this 27th day of November, 1988.
